ABOUT THIS WINERY

Lindeman's global popularity has been driven by the positive philosophy of Dr Henry Lindeman, who established Lindeman's in the Hunter Valley in 1843. Perfect for everyday moments, yet equally worthy of an occasion, Lindeman's immensely popular wines are approachable and accessible, with an unfailing record of consistent quality and timeless appeal. What makes us smile? Friends and family around the table, sharing stories over a bottle of wine.

TASTING NOTES

Wine of cherry red color with good intensity. Fairly powerful nose giving off aromas of pepper, eucalyptus and black fruits. Added to this are woody notes. This dry red has a pleasant freshness and has fleshy tannins. The palate with a full texture ends in a fairly persistent finish.

PRODUCTION NOTES

Lindemans Bin 50 Shiraz is a blend of excellent grapes chosen from several wine regions. Lindemans takes advantage of the topography and climate of the different regions of Australia to produce complex wines that are consistently of unparalleled quality whatever the climatic conditions of each vintage. Some plots were raised in contact with American oak.
