ABOUT THIS WINERY

When in 1954 Segura Viudas gathered the evidence of lands that today form the Heredad, we already knew the centennial agricultural tradition that took place and some references of the vestiges that their walls were hiding. Evenly, we were aware of the value a privileged emplacement like that could pass on to the cava and wines. 50 years later we still being loyal to that foundational view: a view guided by the consistency and respect for the land

TASTING NOTES

Straw yellow in colour, with a small, fine, plentiful mousse. The opening aromas are of the ageing on lees, lightly smokey, with touches of biscuit or bread, which are followed by hints of honey, fruit and flower petals. The palate is excellent, fruity and full of flavour, with dried fruits from the lees ageing, but very elegant, giving the drinker a delightful sense of abundance.

PRODUCTION NOTES

the blend for Reserva Heredad Gran Reserva is made up of nine different wines, each one vinified in separate tanks. Macabeo is the dominant grape in Reserva Heredad Gran Reserva, contributing acidity and freshness. It also allows the wine to age well, minimum 30 months or more that it will be in contact with the lees. Both the first and the second fermentations are carried out using our own selected yeast strains.
